How to File Your Appeal

1. Call the Lewis County Assessor's Office at (304) 269-8205 to request an informal review of your property valuation and ask for property tax appeal forms.
2. File written objections with the assessor stating specific reasons why you disagree with your property's assessed value, including any supporting documentation like recent appraisals or comparable sales.
3. Contact the Lewis County Commission to schedule a hearing before the Board of Equalization and Review, which meets during February and must begin on or before February 1 and adjourn by February 28. If this link doesn't work, call (304) 269-8200.
4. Gather clear and convincing evidence such as a professional appraisal done within the past three years, comparable property values, or documentation of property defects to overcome the presumption that the assessor's value is correct.
5. Present your evidence at the Board of Equalization and Review hearing where the assessor will also attend to defend the property valuation and assist the commission.
6. If denied at the county level, file an appeal with the West Virginia Office of Tax Appeals by March 31 of the property tax year for a de novo hearing before an independent administrative law judge. Visit taxappeals.wv.gov or call (304) 558-1987.

If You're Called to a Hearing

Bring your Evidence Packet. You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Keep it simple and focus on the comparable sales:

> "Thank you for hearing my appeal. My property at 20 Waterfront Way is currently appraised by the county at $641,500, resulting in a taxable assessed value of $384,900 at WV's 60% assessment ratio. However, I've gathered 11 recent sales of similar homes in the area. The 25th percentile price per square foot of these comparable properties is $76. Applied to my home's 6,184 square feet, this supports a market value of approximately $467,198. I've included addresses, sale prices, and details for each comparable in my evidence packet. I respectfully request the Board adjust my assessment to reflect actual market conditions."

Tips: Be polite and factual. Focus only on whether your property's value is correct compared to similar homes that recently sold.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
