How to File Your Appeal

1. Call the Denver County Assessor's Office at (720) 913-4164 to request property tax appeal forms and ask about specific filing requirements for 2026.
2. Locate your Notice of Valuation letter from the assessor which contains your property's assessed value and account number needed for filing an appeal.
3. Gather evidence showing similar properties have sold for less than your assessed value, or document any discrepancies with your property's physical characteristics listed in the assessment.

4. Submit your Real Property Appeal form online, by mail, or in person at the Assessment Division in the Wellington E. Webb Municipal Office Building at 201 W. Colfax Avenue. If you have questions during filing, call the protest phone line at (720) 913-4164.
5. After filing your initial appeal by the deadline, you have until June 30 to submit additional evidence explaining why you believe the value is incorrect.
6. The Denver County Assessor must respond to your appeal by August 15 with a Notice of Determination stating whether they adjusted your value or maintained the original assessment.
7. If unsatisfied with the assessor's decision, file a petition with the County Board of Equalization for further review and a hearing on your case.
8. If still unsatisfied after the County Board of Equalization decision, appeal to the Colorado Board of Assessment Appeals for a videoconference hearing, file a civil complaint in district court, or submit to binding arbitration.

If You're Called to a Hearing

Bring your Evidence Packet. You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Keep it simple and focus on the comparable sales:

> "Thank you for hearing my appeal. My property at 714 Albion St is currently appraised by the county at $630,300, resulting in a taxable assessed value of $42,230 at CO's 6.7% assessment ratio. However, I've gathered 6 recent sales of similar homes in the area. The 25th percentile price per square foot of these comparable properties is $327. Applied to my home's 1,462 square feet, this supports a market value of approximately $478,605. I've included addresses, sale prices, and details for each comparable in my evidence packet. I respectfully request the Board adjust my assessment to reflect actual market conditions."

Tips: Be polite and factual. Focus only on whether your property's value is correct compared to similar homes that recently sold.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
