How to File Your Appeal

1. Call the Newport County Assessor's Office at (401) 625-6709 to request a property tax appeal form and confirm the current filing deadline.
2. Request the official property tax appeal application form from the assessor's office, which may be mailed to you or available for pickup at their office.
3. Collect evidence supporting your appeal including recent appraisals, comparable property sales in your neighborhood, photographs showing property condition, and any documentation of errors in your assessment.
4. Fill out the appeal application form completely, providing detailed information about your property and the specific reasons you believe your assessment is incorrect, attaching all supporting documentation.
5. File your completed appeal application with all supporting documents to the Newport County Assessor's Office within the required timeframe, keeping copies for your records.
6. The assessor has 45 days to review your appeal and notify you of their decision, after which you may appeal to the local tax board of review if still aggrieved.

7. If the assessor denies your appeal or doesn't respond within 45 days, file an appeal with the local tax board of review within 30 days of the assessor's decision or within 90 days if no decision was made.

8. If your appeal is denied by the tax board of review, you may file an appeal in Rhode Island Superior Court as a final option.

If You're Called to a Hearing

Bring your Evidence Packet. You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Keep it simple and focus on the comparable sales:

> "Thank you for hearing my appeal. My property at 22 Pachet Brook Rd is currently appraised by the county at $920,000. However, I've gathered 3 recent sales of similar homes in the area. The 25th percentile price per square foot of these comparable properties is $189. Applied to my home's 4,407 square feet, this supports a market value of approximately $832,594. I've included addresses, sale prices, and details for each comparable in my evidence packet. I respectfully request the Board adjust my assessment to reflect actual market conditions."

Tips: Be polite and factual. Focus only on whether your property's value is correct compared to similar homes that recently sold.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
