How to File Your Appeal

1. Call your town or city assessor's office in Somerset County at the appropriate municipal office (each town handles its own property tax appeals) to request a property tax appeal form and discuss your assessment informally before filing a formal appeal.
2. Visit the Somerset County website at http://www.somersetcounty-me.org to find contact information for your specific town's assessor's office and access tax maps and property records for your municipality.
3. Contact your municipal assessor's office to request the specific property tax appeal form used by your town, as each municipality in Somerset County handles its own appeals process with different forms and procedures.
4. Collect evidence to support your appeal including recent appraisals, comparable property sales in your area, photographs of any property damage or defects, and property cards from similar homes that may show lower assessments.
5. File your completed property tax appeal form with your municipal assessor's office by the applicable deadline, which varies by municipality but is typically around March 30th for most Maine towns.
6. After filing your appeal, you may be scheduled for an informal hearing with the local board of assessors to present your case and evidence for why your property assessment should be reduced.

If You're Called to a Hearing

Bring your Evidence Packet. You'll have 2–3 minutes to make your case. Keep it simple and focus on the comparable sales:

> "Thank you for hearing my appeal. My property at 35 Eastwood Lane is currently appraised by the county at $516,000. However, I've gathered 3 recent sales of similar homes in the area. The 25th percentile price per square foot of these comparable properties is $159. Applied to my home's 2,156 square feet, this supports a market value of approximately $342,692. I've included addresses, sale prices, and details for each comparable in my evidence packet. I respectfully request the Board adjust my assessment to reflect actual market conditions."

Tips: Be polite and factual. Focus only on whether your property's value is correct compared to similar homes that recently sold.

Note: Filing requirements may change. We recommend confirming all deadlines, forms, and contact information with your county assessor's office before submitting your appeal.
